

Fatal Alert

On October 19, 2021, an employee succumbed to COVID-19-related complications. He had previously contracted COVID-19 while working in early September. This employee not only worked this job, but another that exposed him to more frequent contact with the public

Significant factors

- The employee was exposed to the SARS COVID-19 virus.

Recommendations

- Follow CDC recommendations for protection.
- The employer should continually monitor CDC recommendations for changes in guidance.